

THE EMPATHETIC COUNSELOR

TONY LEROY

When LeRoy says he feels you, he means it. The empath says he has been communicating with spirits since his late grandmother chatted him up at age three. Now 23 years into his private practice, the intuitive counselor is booked solid: There's often a four-week wait (which fans Dr. Oz and Isaac Mizrahi may have something to do with) for phone, Skype, or in-person appointments at his New York City office ($250). The disarming LeRoy typically begins a session by drawing a Haring-esque sketch of his client's energy before pulling out his trusty tarot cards to answer questions about love, money, and happiness—and how to get more of each. LeRoy insists life readings be scheduled at least three months apart, but eager devotees looking to “create the life they desire” can book a Life Manifestation Coaching series ($250 and up) or pop into his monthly group workshops ($25).